Fair Housing Tops City Problems Cure

LANSING (AP) — Agreeing that civil strife is not inevitable next summer, Gov. George Romney and the mayors of 18 cities unveiled a 13-point plan Monday to help solve Michigan's urban problems.

Romney said the group, which met for nearly five hours in his office, believes urban problems "can be fully dealt with only if approached on a cooperative basis."

He called for action in the following areas:

—A reshaping of the resources and activities of state government so as to be of maximum practical assistance to local governments.

—Passage of a state fair housing law.

—Adoption of reasonable tenants' rights legislation.

—Implementation of an effective state housing authority and housing program.

—Greater taxing ability and flexibility for local governments with respect to income and excise taxes.

—A better exchange of ideas and information on programs working in local communities.

—A complete review of existing youth programs for the purpose of strengthening them.

—Upgrading of police personnel, responsibilities and skills.

—Expansion of community school programs with state and local funding.

—Greater emphasis in meeting recreation needs by state and local governments.

—Providing insurance for all qualified properties within the scope of state guidelines.

Urban Affairs Office

—Establishment of an urban affairs department or office within state government.

—Legislation to increase effectiveness of state and local response to local disturbances.

Mayors attending the meeting appeared to share Romney's optimism that civil disorder is not inevitable.

"I'm more optimistic today than I was before I came up here," said Mayor Jerome P. Cavanagh of Detroit, adding that he believes the cities' greatest need lies in the area of finance.

Rioting in Detroit claimed 43 lives last July.

The point calling for greater taxing ability and flexibility in the areas of income and excise taxes "relates directly to Detroit," Cavanagh said.

Detroit Priest Leads School Aid Opposition

DETROIT (AP) — A Roman Catholic priest is helping to organize opposition to a bill, now before the State Legislature, to grant up to $150 a year per child in state aid to parents of nonpublic school children.

The Rev. Maurice Geary, assistant pastor at Detroit's St. David's Church, says the bill, which would benefit Catholics, would reopen old wounds and ruin the interfaith movement.

Father Geary also says, "Catholic schools have outlived their usefulness. They were conceived when public schools were very often dominated by anti-Catholic bigotries. However, public schools are truly secular now."

Father Geary is an organizer of Concerned Catholics for Public Schools, a subcommittee of a group called Spend Tax Money on Public Schools (STOPS), which is in the forefront of opposition to the bill.

The bill, introduced in the Legislature last Wednesday, would grant $21 million to parents of nonpublic school children.

The grants would be $50 a year for each child in elementary school and $100 a year per child in secondary school. In the case of inner city schools, the

The bill has been supported by a highly organized and statewide letter-writing campaign which has flooded the offices of lawmakers and other government officials with up to 100,000 pieces of mail.

Father Geary says the bill would revive anti-Catholic sentiment. "I'm sick and tired of bigotry. We should join forces with all who serve humanity, fighting all that would oppress humanity," he says.

Father Geary also says other problems, like the urban crisis, need the money available to state government more urgently.

"This is not the time — with urban problems and the Vietnam war — to turn our energies to preserving our positions. Churches are running out on the problems of society when they are bent on getting funds, rather than giving," he says.

Allies Maul Red Tank Near Cambodia Line

Enemy Armor Found 50 Miles From Saigon

SAIGON (AP) — Communist tanks were reported Monday night only 50 miles northwest of Saigon in their deepest penetration of South Vietnam.

South Vietnamese military headquarters said a force of civilian irregulars and their U.S. Special Forces advisers came on a column of three tanks and a half-tracked armored personnel carrier near the Cambodian border.

The U.S. Command identified the vehicles only as "armored vehicles of an unspecified type" accompanied by an estimated battalion—about 400 men—of enemy troops.

The appearance of Communist armored forces in the area and so far south raised the possibility of a menacing new enemy buildup along the Cambodian border. Previously the presence of enemy tanks has been confirmed only in the northwest corner of the country, near the U.S. Marine combat base at Khe Sanh.

Russian Made

The U.S. Command said the allied force blew up one of the vehicles with antitank rockets and the explosion killed 30 enemy soldiers.

"To blow up that hard, it had to have a lot of ammunition in it," one U.S. officer said.

Some South Vietnamese sources said there were reports the tanks were Russian T34s, a World War II weapon.

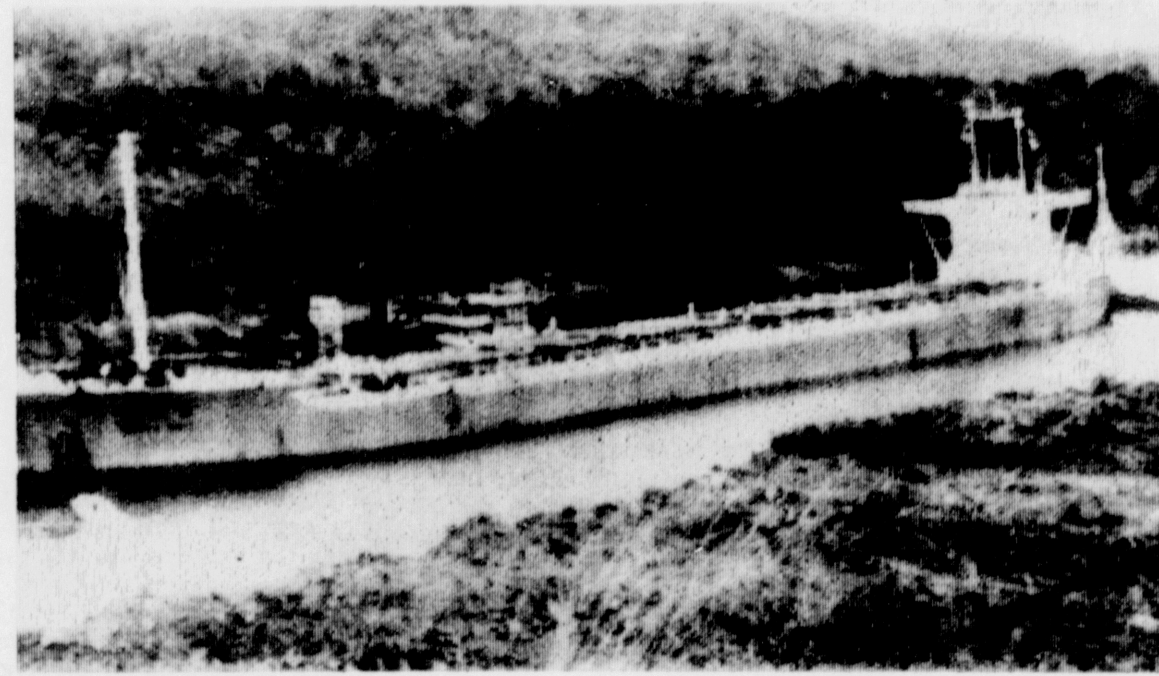

The U.S. Command said that after nearly two hours of fighting, the vehicles that were still mobile and the remainder of the enemy force broke contact and fled to the west, presumably to Cambodia. But a U.S. spokesman said the enemy later launched a counterattack and the force of about 100 South Vietnamese and Americans then withdrew.

Few Casualties

Neither the South Vietnamese nor American spokesmen had any reports of the armored vehicles opening fire. The U.S. Command said there were no American casualties and South Vietnamese casualties were "light." South Vietnamese headquarters said the government troops suffered no casualties.

Speculation about a new Communist buildup along the Cambodian border was strengthened by another Green Beret ambush earlier Monday at Loc Ninh, 80 miles north of Saigon. The Americans and their South Vietnamese irregulars pounced on a 2½-ton truck carrying Communist troops, destroyed the vehicle and killed 17 of the enemy, the U.S. Command said. One

Utah Copper Talks Fail

By The Associated Press

Cessation of union-Kennecott talks, a statement supporting union rejection of a federal proposal and plans for the long-shoremen were among the developments Monday in the nationwide copper strike.

A union spokesman, Verne Curtis, said "we just cannot agree that workers in one place will go back to work and leave the others on strike. The company wants us to do it, and we aren't going to."

More than 200 officers of the joint union bargaining committee and union officers from Kennecott operations in Utah, Nevada, Arizona and New Mexico met in Salt Lake City and unanimously endorsed a Feb. 20 statement in Miami Beach, Fla., by the National Nonferrous Strike Coordinating Committee. The national committee rejected the recommendation of a special three-man federal panel, the panel had suggested that instead of talks being conducted on company-wide bargaining, they be held in three separate divisions — copper, nonferrous production and fabricating.

The national coordinating committee had said the panel's report "is unacceptable because it is unworkable and would not resolve any of the basic problems which caused the strike."

In Baltimore, members of the striking unions proposed to establish "information picket lines" on the waterfronts to provide longshoremen with a legal reason not to handle imported copper.

The union's proposal was reported by the Baltimore Sun, which said International Longshoremen's Association abandoned last week its plans for a copper boycott because such a move would have been subject to charges of "secondary boycott" before the National Labor Relations Board.

The Sun noted that the U.S. Supreme Court has, however, upheld the right of union members to individually refuse to cross informational picket lines such as the unions are considering.

There was speculation that Conservative Party leader Edward Heath might introduce an amendment to grant would-be immigrants the right to appeal against refusals of admittance. Home Secretary James Callaghan already has turned down requests for such a procedure, but an amendment by Heath might force him to reverse himself.

In Nairobi, meanwhile, Kenya's creaking government machinery slowed the Asian stampede to Britain. Inexperienced African clerks, most of whom had recently taken over from Asians, were able to issue only one tax clearance certificate every five minutes. After a long wait at the tax office, the migrants had to go to the other side of town for another clearance, which meant another long wait.

As a result, airline officials reported extra flights scheduled for the exodus were not yet fully booked.

"It is also a clear and definite breach of the word and honor of the British government... probably the most shameful measure that Labor members have ever been asked... to support."

However, the conservative Daily Mail said Britain is already overcrowded.

"White natives see their quality of life declining and blame the immigrants," the Mail said. "Those comfortable liberals who live miles away from the problem should remember that the horrifying riots in the United States spring from bitterness between poor blacks and poor whites."

Four amendments have been introduced seeking rejection of the bill after the debate on its second reading tonight. Defeat was expected for all of them. The bill must clear the second reading vote tonight, a routine third reading vote and the House of Lords, then be given the royal assent.

War News Ban Draws Fire Of Moss In House

WASHINGTON (AP) — Chairman John E. Moss of the House government information subcommittee, saying he's investigating new U.S. restrictions on releasing Vietnam war news, contends reports on the war's progress must not be censored.

"It is more important now than at any time since our involvement there that we be fully informed about the war," the California Democrat said Monday night in an interview.

Moss said he has asked Phil G. Goulding, assistant secretary of defense, for a full explanation of the restrictions, which were imposed in Saigon Monday.

In addition, Moss said, his subcommittee staff is asking for a complete file on all cables and other messages between Saigon and Washington dealing with the matter.

The U.S. Command imposed restrictions on release to the press of information dealing with American casualties, damage done by enemy gunfire and the number of enemy shells fired when such information is considered to be of intelligence value to the Communists.

A Pentagon spokesman said the restrictions are not expected to affect the daily release of casualty lists and the Defense Department's weekly report on the over-all totals of men killed and wounded.

There was no immediate indication of full censorship on news dispatches, as was the case during World War II and the Korean War.

Brig. Gen. Winant Sidle, chief of information for the U.S. Military Command, issued the directive. He planned to meet with Saigon newsmen today to clarify it.

Moss said limited restrictions for security reasons are understandable. But he added:

"The measure of progress of U.S. and South Vietnamese troops is important and we must know what it is. It cannot be censored."

Aid Official States U.S. Creates Cong

WASHINGTON (AP) — The United States is "creating more Viet Cong than we are destroying," says Arthur Z. Gardiner, former director of the American foreign aid agency in Saigon who now heads a federally-backed organization operating there.

Saying he was expressing his personal views, Gardiner told an interviewer the United States should try hard for a peace settlement and pull its forces out of Vietnam.

He said such an approach would save American lives because "we are going down now on a course that has no ending whatsoever."

Change Needed

"Unless we do something different, we are going to be hopelessly bogged down in a major land war in Asia which our military leaders have said we should avoid at all costs."

Gardiner, chief of the U.S. Agency for International Development mission in Saigon in 1958-62, receives a heavy flow of grass-roots reports from South Vietnamese in his current post as executive director of International Voluntary Services (IVS).

IVS is a private nonprofit organization which began sending youthful volunteers to South Vietnam for development work a decade ago. Their activities in the cities and countryside—similar to those of the Peace Corps, which has no unit in Vietnam—are financed by the Washington and Saigon governments.

Volunteers Quit

In the wake of the Communist Tet onslaught, some of the 155 IVS volunteers have decided to quit before the end of their two-year tours.

But a spokesman for the aid-administering Agency for International Development said there is no thought of withdrawing IVS altogether.

Sources said Gardiner is free to air his personal views as a citizen and that AID's spending on IVS, about $1.2 million this year, is related to the services IVS renders rather than the private opinions of its members.

Gardiner said he wrote letters to two U.S. newspapers before the outbreak of Communist attacks at the end of January. In them he said:

Hate Fostered

—Hate for America exists in most of Vietnam today "from the overbearing presence of 500,000 Americans," from jealousy of Vietnamese officials displaced in practice by U.S. advisers and from military tactics which have uprooted nearly a quarter of the civilian population.

—Constructive efforts toward a peaceful and prosperous Vietnam "are doomed if they must depend on the leadership of an unstable, little-respected military clique" elected "by a small minority vote."

Papal Appeal On Ash Wednesday

MARQUETTE — Pope Paul VI will open the 22nd annual Catholic Bishop's Overseas Aid Fund Appeal on Ash Wednesday, tomorrow, with a radio message to pupils in the Catholic elementary, catechetical and high schools in the Diocese of Marquette, according to Msgr. David P. Spelgatti, diocesan director of the appeal.

The purpose of this annual nationwide appeal, conducted in the name of the American Catholic bishops, is to raise money to support the global relief, self-help and social welfare projects conducted in some 79 countries by Catholic Relief Services, the overseas aid and development agency of American Catholics.

The appeal is conducted in two phases.

The first begins on Ash Wednesday when Pope Paul will ask the children in Catholic schools to participate in a special 40-day Lenten campaign by performing acts of self-denial and making personal contributions to aid needy, sick and undernourished infants and children in other lands.

The second and major phase of the Bishop's Overseas Aid Fund Appeal will begin on March 17 and be climaxed by a collection on Sunday, March 24, the middle Sunday of Lent, in all churches of the diocese.

Proceeds from last year's appeal enabled Catholic Relief Services to conduct aid and development programs in more than 70 countries throughout Asia, Africa and Latin America distributing food, clothing, medicine and other relief supplies to more than 40 million impoverished persons, without regard to race, religion or color.

Communists Plan World Conference

BUDAPEST, Hungary (AP) — About three-quarters of the world's Communist parties opened a meeting here Tuesday to discuss holdings a world conference in quest of party unity in the wake of the Moscow-Peking dispute.

Controversy had already appeared among the parties as Janos Kadar, first secretary of the Hungarian party, formally opened the meeting.

With the big Chinese Communist party and others boycotting the Soviet-inspired meeting, little more than half of the estimated 50 million Communist party members in the world were represented. The bulk of the parties represented here were tiny ones, many of them illegal, underground organizations.

Kiwanis Club Hears Brawley

An information and timely report on the Michigan Income Tax was presented to the Kiwanis Club by Bernard Brawley, district manager of the Michigan State Department of Revenue, on Monday.

Brawley, who is a 16-year veteran of the Department presented the major questions which have been tossed at the department to date, and explained the rulings in each case.

The moneys to be collected will go into the state fund, said Brawley, except for the 17 per cent which is returned to the counties. A projected estimate of $174 million dollars will be collected for the state fund, with approximately $9 million for the counties, Brawley reported.

In another part of the program, Mark Settling, who is a freshman at the Escanaba Area High School presented a violin solo which he played in the Honors Concert at Northern Michigan University this past weekend. Mrs. John Chown accompanied him on the piano.

Three new members were inducted into the Kiwanis at the meeting including Lowell Sundstrom, Jon Taylor and Hugh Harris.

Receiving perfect attendance pins from the past-president Don Wert were Con Finstrom for 15 years, Thaxter Shaw for 12 years, and William VanEffen for 11 years.

Music Students Of Junior High Win Top Ratings

An innovation in this year's Solo and Ensemble Contest held in Marquette on Saturday was the inclusion of a Junior High Division. Formerly, these students performed at the Junior High large group festival held in May.

A total of 36 students accompanied by their instructors, David Laakso, Mrs. Robert Chase, Mrs. George Embs, and Mrs. John Chown performed in 11 different categories.

Receiving superior or Division I ratings were Bruce Bender, piano; Rosemary Hakes, soprano; a clarinet choir; and Lynn Chylek, flute solo. Division II or Excellent ratings were received by the Seventh and Eighth grade vocal ensemble; Dawn Bunch, soprano; a string sextet; Marcia Bengry, violin solo; Bruce Bender, oboe solo; and piano soloists, Bob Jennings, John Beck and Anne Jurmu.

The Junior High large group festival will be hosted in Escanaba on May 4, with David Laakso as chairman.

President Plans Transport Agency

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) — President Johnson told Congress Tuesday he plans to create a new urban mass transportation administration to consolidate most federal efforts in the $200 million-a-year field.

The agency, which will automatically come into existence in 60 days if neither house of Congress disapproves, would transfer most activity in this area from the Department of Housing and Urban Development to the Department of Transportation.

State Produce Goes To Japan

LANSING (AP) — A boat bound for Tokyo today carries Michigan turkey products, fruits, puddings and pie fillings to tempt the taste buds of the Japanese.

And if the tempting goes as State Department of Agriculture officials hope, it could register hundreds and thousands of dollars in business for Michigan firms and farmers.

The Michigan products are to join those from 13 other states in displays at the American festival, an exhibit opening April 5. The show is sponsored by the U.S. Department of Agriculture.

Job Security Tax Is Reduced

LANSING (AP) — Because of Michigan's continuing economic upturn, employers this year will be spared an "emergency" unemployment payroll tax for the first time in 12 years, reports the Michigan Employment Security Commission.

The MESC said that if the 0.4 per cent emergency tax levied against payrolls in 1967 had been levied again this year, the extra cost to employers would have been some $32 million.

The emergency contributions have been paid annually since 1957 in amounts of from 0.4 to 0.6 per cent of annual payrolls, noted Malcolm Lovell, MESC director.

At the same time, Lovell said, the regular unemployment compensation payroll tax is dropping. He said 1967 was the first year since 1956 that the regular tax has been below 2 per cent of taxable payroll.

For 1960-63, the regular tax was nearly 3 per cent, dropping to about 1.6 per cent in 1967 and to an estimated 1.3 per cent this year, Lovell added.

"Nothing illustrates the economic resurgence of Michigan since the recessions of 1958 and 1961 as well as the continuing reduction in taxes paid under the Michigan Employment Security Act," Lovell said.

Ford Recalls 41,000 Autos

DEARBORN (AP) — Ford Motor Co. Monday recalled some 41,000 vehicles to replace a bolt in the steering mechanism, saying "failure of the bolt could cause loss of steering control."

Vehicles being recalled to dealerships are 1968 Fairlane, Falcons, Montegos and Rancheros equipped with power steering and delivered after Jan. 22, the firm said.

The firm said it discovered that some of the bolts were heat-treated inadequately by a supplier.

Ford said it believes only a small portion of the vehicles being recalled have defective bolts but that all would be replaced because only a destructive test would show whether the part was faulty.

The bolt connects the steering center link to the idler arm.

Antlerless Deer Hunt Ban Urged By Sport Clubs

NEGAUNEE — A halt to shooting of antlerless deer in the Upper Peninsula for at least three years was asked by the Northern Michigan Sportsmen's Association at its midwinter meeting here Sunday.

Delegates representing nine clubs affiliated with the NMSA voted for the return to the buck law during regular firearms seasons.

Clarence Swanson, Republic, NMSA vice president, presided in the absence of NMSA President Jack Madigan, Munising, who was ill.

The meeting in the Negaunee Rod & Gun Club was attended by representatives of the Iron Mountain - Kingsford Sportsmen's Club, Munising-Alger Sportsmen's Club, Negaunee Rod & Gun Club, Northwoods Sportsmen's Club (Mass), Otawa Sportsmen's Club (Pelkie), Republic Sportsmen's Club, Tahquamenon Sportsmen's Club (Newberry) and Schoolcraft County Conservation Club.

Ask Bounties Returned
Other resolutions approved by the delegates called for:

• Reinstating the fox and bobcat bounties in the Upper Peninsula only.

• Opening the deer season on the Saturday nearest Nov. 15.

• Extending the rabbit season through March.

(Rep. Dominic Jacobetti, D-Negaunee, who attended yesterday's meeting, said a bill to this effect has been introduced in the Legislature.)

• Setting the coho salmon trout season to coincide with the lake trout season on Lake Superior.

• Prohibiting smelters from burning cans, tires, etc., because this "is a hazard on stream banks."

• Removing hawks and owls from the list of protected species.

• Encouraging lawmakers to present a bill to acquire more patrol boats and personnel to control the Great Lakes.

Game Management
• Working toward making the NMSA a strong, effective organization.

• Reducing the amount of commercial forest development on state lands, especially pines, and emphasizing game management on these lands instead (passed by a 15-14 margin).

A resolution to shorten the ruffed grouse season from the present 41 days to two weeks was defeated, 22-10.

Ray Gummerson, Marquette, resource development specialist for Michigan State University, showed a series of color slides depicting coho salmon fishing in Washington.

Considerable discussion centered on means for promoting the NMSA, gaining new member clubs and revitalizing the organization.

The association's annual meeting will be held Sept. 15 at the Ottawa Sportsmen's Club in Baraga County.

Wake Up Your PERISTALSIS And Be Your SMILING BEST

Peristalsis is the muscular action of your digestive system. When peristaltic action slows down, waste materials can build up in the lower tract. You can become irregular, uncomfortable, stuffed.

The unique laxative formula of today's Carter's Pills gives effective, temporary relief of the irregularity by activating the slowed-down muscles of the lower tract and stimulating peristalsis. So if you're sluggish due to irregularity, take Carter's Pills to wake up your peristalsis and you'll bounce back to your smiling best.

Millions of satisfied users take Carter's Pills for effective temporary relief of irregularity. Why don't you, too?

Wallace Strategy

When former Alabama Governor George Wallace addressed the U. P. American Legion convention banquet in Escanaba last summer there was a considerable public reaction of "What's the matter with that?"

What the racist said about crime and bumbling in Vietnam made sense to many persons, apparently. He's been at it for quite a while now and is a national influence in this year's presidential election.

It will not be possible for Wallace to be elected President; that would be a catastrophe of huge size for America, but the election could conceivably put him in a position to influence the choice of the President. That would mean that a candidate with most leaning toward Negro suppression would get Wallace's approval and the presidency.

Wallace hopes to capture the five Southern states where racism is strongest and where the whites vote still to suppress Negroes and deny them the full privileges of United States citizenship.

The U. S. Constitution provides that if no candidate for President receives a majority of votes in the Electoral College, the House of Representatives in Congress chooses a President from among the top three candidates, with each state having one vote and 26 votes needed to win.

In the present Congress Democrats control 29 state delegations and could probably give the presidency to their candidate even if Wallace won the five Dixie states that he expects to carry. But a House vote would be cast by state delegations to be elected in November of this year and if the Republicans hang onto their 18 states and gain even as many as three more the House vote would be Democrats 24 and Republicans 21 and five Wallace votes in such a setup could give him strong bargaining power.

Wallace's game is to bargain for complete withdrawal of federal "interference" in the South. This would mean a continuation and even extension of the conspiracy in Congress after the Civil War to let the Southern States deal with their Negro problems on their own terms.

America was moving toward much more racial equality under Presidents Kennedy and Johnson until the reverses of last year, when the civil rights tide ebbed. Negro disorders helped Southern racists to end the continuation of lawmaking for equality of citizenship.

Now the nation, troubled with great problems of big city ghetto unrest, is being told by Wallace that he'll fix the crime-in-the-streets problem pronto if elected. That means police state methods. If Americans buy that our greatness is gone.

Minimum Pay

There seems to be some sort of Parkinson's law to the effect that the more that is done to aid the disadvantaged members of society, the worse off some of them will be. Or perhaps the Bible best expressed it:

"For unto every one that hath shall be given, and he shall have abundance; but from him that hath not shall be taken away even that which he hath."

It has been charged, for instance, that urban renewal, which is designed to benefit slum dwellers, has on the whole actually reduced the supply of low-cost housing available to them and forced them to pay higher rentals.

Another antipoverty measure, the federal minimum wage, lifted to $1.60 an hour as of Feb. 1, has also come in for the lumps.

The minimum wage, claims Yale Brozen, economics professor at the University of Chicago, has actually increased, rather than decreased, poverty in America. More than that, it is a direct cause of urban riots, he says.

Before the minimum went to $1, he says, unemployment among nonwhite and white male teen-agers was roughly the same. Since then, unemployment among nonwhites has been 50 to 150 per cent greater than among whites.

"The greatest help we can give the Negro today is to repeal the statutory minimum wage," he says. "By raising it, we are foreclosing opportunity for Negro teen-agers who cannot get the jobs where they could learn the skills that would enable them to earn far more than the minimum."

City Attacks Rally Support To Saigon

By RAY CROMLEY

WASHINGTON (NEA) — There is some evidence the Viet Cong terrorist attacks may be boomerang.

The government of South Vietnam has been stalemated for months because of differences between President Thieu and Vice President Ky.

The day of the terror attacks, Thieu, who was out of Saigon, called Ky, gave him wide authority to go ahead and appointed him head of an emergency committee to handle urban defenses and recovery.

Gen. Tang, one of South Vietnam's most able and honest administrators, had quit the government a short while back, saying corruption and obstructionism in the government were so great it was impossible to accomplish anything.

Tang's loss was a serious blow. It has been believed here that Tang and only Tang had the ability to get the civil pacification program going. Civil pacification, most observers believe, is the only gate to victory.

In the aftermath of the Viet Cong city attacks, Tang has again joined the government—on Ky's emergency committee. It has long been said by observers the Vietnamese army greatest blunder of the 20-year has not been fighting as it war in Vietnam.

should, that the burden of war was being shifted to American shoulders.

Many Vietnamese troops were on holiday during Tet, despite warnings of Viet Cong attacks. It seems to be a fact also that numerous units were caught by surprise.

It is encouraging to read in reports now coming in how Vietnamese units recovered to fight with vigor against the Viet Cong.

Despite what this VC surprise says about the Vietnamese army's lack of security precautions, it speaks in loud words regarding Vietnamese courage and determination.

Men touring the provinces since the attacks began, think they see signs of a change in attitude toward the people among some province and district chiefs. This change may be small and it may be temporary, but it is a change, nevertheless, for the better.

There has been in Vietnam a tendency to put things off until tomorrow. When fighting has been going on for 20 years it is normal to be tired of war. But, at least in the past few days, some officials seem to have looked at their jobs more seriously.

If this spirit lasts, the Communists have, in their 45-city terror attacks, made their greatest blunder of the 20-year war in Vietnam.

TRAILER HOMES

I have a solution for the housing shortage that might arise in the Escanaba Area this year because of the Mead Co.'s construction boom. The city can have 500 homeowners in Escanaba make a home trailer parking rental pad each on their lots, and then rent the pads to the new construction workers of Mead's paper mill place.

It's up to the city's commission to create a legality for such a period of five years at least. From this idea they can create 1,000 pads in Escanaba to have ample housing for the 1,000 construction workers working at Mead when the work is in full progress, at the construction site.

Stan Arneson
Rte. 1

Editor's Note: Trailer coaches (or homes) are permitted in the City of Escanaba only in designated areas, such as approved trailer parks. A private developer is proposing to establish a mobile homes subdivision near the area in which the construction workers would be employed.

RADIO CLUB

The Charter members of the Delta County Radio Club of Escanaba are Richard Meisner, Furney Deiter, Harold Neumann, Theresa Neumann, Dale Deiter, Richard Porath, David Lee, Rene Marcoe and James Meisner.

They met in August, 1964, at the Red Cross office in Escanaba to choose a temporary chairman to head a committee to arrange and write acceptable by-laws for the Delta County Radio Club. The name of the Club was chosen at that time. Mrs. Harold (Theresa) Neumann, was chosen temporary chairman and consulted with Richard Meisner, Dale Deiter and David Lee in preparing a rough draft of the by-laws for the Delta County Radio Club.

The Club was organized for the purpose of: Unity in two-way radio communications; to be of aid in community emergency or disaster; to promote legal operation and FCC regulations information; to answer calls for assistance and questions to the public.

The Delta County Radio Club's first officers were Rene Marcoe, president; and Mrs. Neumann, secretary-treasurer, who set up a checking account in the State Bank of Escanaba; Harold Neumann, Civil Defense coordinator; Dale Deiter public relations officer. Harold Neumann was president in 1965 and John Moras was president in 1966 and 1967.

In 1966 the members of the Delta County Radio Club were trained for radio active fall-out shelter management by Mason Johnson, Civil Defense director for Delta County. The Club also participated in emergency search for lost persons. During a local Telethon the Delta County Radio Club members gave support through delivery of merchandise and collection of donations by mobile two-way radio contact and dispatch service set up in the WDBC studios. We as a Club intend to continue these services to the public.

Due to the starting of a number of radio clubs in this area, the Delta County Radio Club name had to be and was registered on Feb. 13, 1968, by three of the existing charter members, who are the only three left from the original group. The rest are new members since then taken into the Club.

This action was taken to protect the Title and Treasury funds left after expenses of 1967, leaving a balance of $76.10 at the time of registration. The fund is not for personal use but for Club activities and can only be altered by a combined signature of the president and treasurer of the Delta County Radio Club. These arrangements were made by Mrs. Neumann and the State Bank of Escanaba.

Membership will be continued at $1 per person. Wives are considered honorary members. Further information may be obtained by calling 786-2549 or 786-2935.

Signed: Norbert Linden, Pennie Linden, John Moras, Harold A. Neumann, Dale G. Deiter, Furney Deiter, Theresa Neumann.

SCHOOL AID

Last week saw the governor's office barraged with more than 30,000 letters requesting that public funds be turned over to parochial schools. Such organizations as Citizens for Educational Freedom and the Michigan Association of Non-public Schools which instigated this campaign are really church groups attempting to get public funds for themselves by putting the pressure on public officials.

One provision of the state constitution declares, "No money shall be appropriated or drawn from the treasury for the benefit of any religious sect or society, theological or religious seminary." These groups are trying to work around this by having $50 per elementary student and up to $150 per secondary student returned to the parents with the understanding that the parents turn the money over to the school. (Really the church!)

A parochial school is always church-related. This is the purpose of the school. One certainly has every right to send his child to a private or parochial school according to his religious dictates, but he has no right to expect the public to be taxed to support a religious institution, especially when some have other religious convictions.

One might say that parochial schools are segregated schools—not by color or national origin but by religion. In Canada, Catholic schools are being phased out in favor of unsegregated public schools while locally and in Michigan the push is in the opposite direction.

Public schools are an arm of our state government. They have the obligation to provide the education for our children. Public school doors are freely open to all children regardless of race, religion, color or economic status. Public funds belong in public schools!

Algoma Steel Has Drop In Profits

SAULT STE. MARIE, Ont. (AP) — Sales and profits of Algoma Steel Corp. fell sharply in 1967 from the previous year. David S. Holbrook, chairman and president, said today. He reported in an interim financial statement that net profit in 1967 was $14,207,000 compared with $24,796,000 the previous year, while net sales dropped to $200,620,000 from $255,479,000.

People, Events Of Yesteryears

25 Years Ago

Three committees were appointed by the board of directors of the Escanaba Chamber of Commerce. They are: Tourist and Convention committee, with Herbert Flath, chairman; Auditing and Finance committee, with chairman Leslie French; and Agricultural Promotion committee, Henry Bathke, chairman.

Some of the first signs of approaching spring are now evident in Escanaba. One of these is the huge amount of water now covering the city streets. Motorists were warned to slow down when driving through these large puddles to avoid splashing pedestrians and other cars.

50 Years Ago

Boys of the Barr School proved to be faster knitters than the girls. The sixth grade class held a contest in knitting which has been in progress for the last several weeks. During that time, the boys had knitted the greater number of blocks for a "comfort" quilt.

Five Delta County men who enlisted in the U. S. spruce production service, left recently for Vancouver, Wash. The commander of the group was Ralph Aiken, of 311 Birch St., Escanaba. The other men were George J. Miller, George W. Friday, John Bottish and Peter Pocolevish.

Look at the North hand. You have a perfect 16-point no-trump opening bid.

Your partner opens with one no-trump himself and since that shows 16 to 18 points, your partnership total is from 32 to 34. If he has 16 only, you don't want to be in a slam; if he has 17 or 18, you do. You don't even want to get to five if he only holds 16—32 points should make five odd but doesn't do so every time.

You would like to bid four no-trump as a strong no-trump call, rather than Blackwood. We strongly recommend this one modification in use of Blackwood, which is that, when your partner opens in no-trump, the immediate raise to four no-trump is just a raise, not a demand for aces.

South has 17 points, plus two 10s, and bids six happily. The jack of spades is opened and West plays dummy's queen because West might have led from the king. East plays the king and South has to scramble for his contract.

His best play is to take the ace right away and run off four clubs. He discards the three of spades from dummy. Then he tries hearts and when the pack drops on the second lead, he has four heart tricks. He lets his eight of spades go on the fourth heart and is now ready to think about the queen of diamonds. A lot will depend on the East-West discards on clubs and hearts. East should let two spades go and most Wests will discard two spades also. In that case, South may throw West in with his last spade and make him lead a diamond.

An alert West will discard the deuce of diamonds and the nine of spades and conceal his six spot. Then, if South leads a spade, West gets two spade tricks.

Of course, South can always guess where the queen of diamonds is. In any event, it is a tough contract after the spade lead when East holds the king. With any other lead, or with the king in the West hand, South would have had a cinch.

CARD Sense

Q—The bidding has been:

West North East South

Pass 2 ♠ Pass ?

You, South, hold:

♠ A K Q J 7 6 5 ♥ A 3 2 ♦ 7 6 4 5

What do you do now?

A—Bid four spades. This shows that you can play spades opposite a void and had a little too much high card strength to open with four spades.

TODAY'S QUESTION

Your partner continues to five diamonds. What do you do now?

Christmas Letter Partisans Complain

Dear Ann Landers: We are six and seventh grade boys with a big problem. We think you can help us. Almost every day a lady teacher busts into the boys' toilet and causes a lot of embarrassment. Somebody put out a rumor that certain guys smoke in there. The teacher is trying to catch them, which is why she comes clomping in without any warning.

Please don't tell us to complain to the principal because the principal is always on the teacher's side. You are famous for your good answers so please don't fail us. Thank you. — PRIVACY NEEDED

Dear Privacy: A lady has no right to bust into the boys' toilet even if she is looking for kids who smoke. If there is a man teacher in school, he should do the surprise checking. If there is no man teacher I suggest that the janitor or a paid supervisor be asked to do the investigating.

Ask your mother or dad to call or write the superintendent of schools and report on this little happening.

Dear Ann: Now that you have published a blistering attack on mimeographed Christmas letters will you be good enough to give equal time to the opposition?

The woman who wrote made it sound as if people who send Christmas letters are braggarts or mini-brains. In answer to her question, "Who wants to wade through all that drivel?" I'd like to reply, "WE DO!"

When I open an envelope which is obviously a Christmas greeting I feel terribly let down when I see only a signature — often engraved. "The Andersons wish you a happy holiday" — nothing more. What could be colder or more impersonal? Sometimes there will be a hastily written line — "Will write later — no time now." (They rarely do.)

So, please, Ann, let your readers know their newsletters ARE appreciated by many people. Our family would be heart sick if our friends and family stopped sending them. — VOTE FOR THE AFFIRMATIVE

Dear Vote: You will be pleased to know I received hundreds of letters from readers who voted with you. So keep those Christmas newsletters coming, folks. Those who find them boring can toss them aside.

Dear Ann Landers: My brother and his wife came to town unexpectedly last Sunday and sixth grade boys with a big problem. We think you can help us. Almost every day a lady teacher busts into the boys' toilet and causes a lot of embarrassment. Somebody put out a rumor that certain guys smoke in there. The teacher is trying to catch them, which is why she comes clomping in without any warning.

Now I wish we had never gone, any of us. Fourteen people were crowded around a table meant for 10. I'm sure she put only one board in her table instead of two to let us know we had inconvenienced her. The hostess's very old parents did not fit into the social group (both are hard of hearing) and they could easily have eaten in the kitchen or been fed before the guests arrived.

The hostess was cool to me when we said good night. I am the one who should be mad — not her. Should I tell her I feel she was most ungracious? — ADA

Dear Ada: The real culprits are Irma and George. In this age of communication there is no excuse to arrive anywhere unexpectedly. When such things occur, it is best to call the hostess and say, "I'm sorry we cannot come" and explain why. Only if the hostess INSISTS that you bring your guests should you do so.

The notion that she should have put her parents in the kitchen or fed them first is outrageous. Is this the way you treat YOUR parents? If so, I feel sorry for them — and sorrier for you.

Alcohol is no shortcut to social success. If you think you have to drink to be accepted by your friends, get the facts. Read "Booze and You — For Teen-Agers Only," by Ann Landers. Send 35c in coin and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope with your request.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper, enclosing a self-addressed, stamped envelope. Copyright 1968, Publishers-Hall Syndicate

Beef Breeders Report Average '67 Operations

Bay de Noc Beef Producers in annual meeting at the Rapid River School Monday night elected two directors and heard report that the year had been an average one in operation of the cooperative's big auction yard and program of breeding and selling young beef animals to feeder lots to the south.

Re-elected directors were Martin Witter of Bark River and Reinhold Bittner of Bark River, who is vice president of the co-op.

Other holdover directors and officers include Leonard Spaulding, Garden, Richard Peterson, Ensign, and Harvey Arken, Wilson, directors; William Jaeger, Watson, president, and Roy Dalgard, Fayette, secretary-treasurer.

Dalgard reported that the auction sale of young stock on Oct. 10 at Rapid River brought in $101,159, compared with $84,000 at the 1966 sale. Income to the co-op totaled $2,805, with a net gain on the sale of $1,092.

The 1967 sale disposed of 888 head, compared with 666 in 1966 and directors of the group expressed hope for further gains in the young beef animal program in the mid-Upper Peninsula this year.

The co-op opened its yard in 1965 when high enthusiasm and widespread participation in the beef industry produced 1,709 head for sale. The quality of the animals has been improved since then by the Beef Breeders' program, but they have not been able to reach the number of animals of the first year's sale yet.

Joseph Heirman, Delta County director of Extension services for Michigan State University, spoke to the beef breeders on the use of fertilizer on their grazing lands. The ranchers' interest, he said, is in getting the most plant food for his animals from the money expended on roughage.

Top dressing of areas should return $2 to $3 for every $1 expended in fertilizer, Heirman said, but he cautioned that the ranch owners buy right in order to get maximum feed production for their expenditures.

The 59 members of the co-op represent a gain over 1966. A breeder must be a member to sell his animals at the annual sale. Dues are $2 a year.

Old Courthouse Site Discussion On Board Agenda

The Delta County Board of Supervisors will discuss disposition of the old County courthouse and jail property on 1st Ave. S. when it meets at 7:30 p.m. today in the Delta County building.

County Clerk William W. Butler said a discussion on the property is the main item on the agenda.

The property was optioned to Harold (Pat) Hayes, owner of the Home of Ludington, last year with the stipulation that the site be used for construction of a medical clinic.

Hayes informed the Board recently that plans for the medical center had been dropped because physicians to staff the building were not available. At that time, he requested his option be renewed to plan construction of apartments.

The Board tabled the request as other real estate developers also expressed interest in an apartment project for the land.

Births Plummet; School Reason?

WASHINGTON (AP) - The U.S. birth rate dropped to a record low last year, possibly because of the growing cost of rearing and educating children. The National Center for Health Statistics reported a rate of 17.9 live births per 1,000 population in 1967. The previous low of 18.4 per 1,000 was recorded in the depression years of 1933 and 1936 and again in 1966.

Blaney Rally
Attracts 400

An all-day rally of snow machines and drivers was held on Sunday at Blaney Park at the Paul Bunyan Playhouse.

About 400 people participated in the first family fun day rally, Charles Berthune, manager of Blaney, reported.

Approximately 75 to 80 snow-machines participated in the six organized races and 23 trophies were awarded.

Placing first in the men's competition were Thomas Spence, Newberry; Ron Maddox, McMillan; and Carl Klagstad, Manistique.

Jean Bowler, Germfask, and Vikki Ketvirtis, Newberry, placed first in ladies competition.

A smorgasbord was served during the afternoon.

Berthune said another rally will be held next month, weather permitting.

MANISTIQUE

RANDY MÜLTHAUP, Dave Roddy and Bob Johnson open the marble season a little early in Manistique. All that's necessary for start of this popular spring schoolyard sport, they say, is a little room for rolling. There's lots of snow around Manistique yet, but marble players can't wait for daffodils and dry ground. (Daily Press Photo)

GLADSTONE City To Boost Trailer Court By 50 Pads

The City of Gladstone will add about 50 pads to its city trailer court on Delta Ave. this spring in order to provide housing for anticipated construction workers coming into the area for the Mead Corp. expansion project.

City Manager H. J. Henriksen told the City Commission Monday night that sewers could be installed on both sides of Michigan Ave. from 2nd St. to the power plant to provide additional trailer space.

John Lake, a resident of the trailer court, said that improvements are needed at the court and asked to have the streets bounded the court treated to control dust. He said also that lighting is inadequate and drainage in the spring is a problem.

The Commission will consider making improvements to the area to make it "more livable and attractive."

Henriksen will consult with Williams & Works, Engineers, Grand Rapids, and will report cost estimates to the Commission.

World Day Of Prayer Friday

Gladstone women will join christians all around the world in their observance of World Day of Prayer Friday at 2 p.m. at Trinity Episcopal Church.

The universal service, written by Mrs. Rathie Selvaratnam of Ceylon chairman of Asian Church Women's Conference, will follow the theme, "Bear One Another's Burdens."

The main purpose of the World Day of prayer since its beginning 80 years ago has been prayer and giving for the worldwide mission of the church. Men and women join together across denominational racial, national and cultural boundaries to pray for the needs of the world and to make an offering for the church mission around the globe.

Offerings received on Friday will go to many worthy projects in America as well as in other lands. Mrs. Loren Anderson will present a vocal solo and Mrs. Helene Merki will be the organist. The offering will be received by Mrs. Russell Sarasin and Mrs. Jerrold Becvar.

Blue Cross Is Asking 3% Hike

DETROIT (AP) — Michigan Blue Cross, the hospitalization insurance plan, proposed a three per cent average rate increase Monday for almost half of its 4.5 million members.

It would go into effect in the third quarter of 1968 if approved by the state insurance commissioner.

Michigan Blue Shield, which pays medical expenses, asked for no change in its base rate. Both Blue Shield and Blue Cross filed the rate proposals with the State Insurance Bureau.

The proposed adjustments would average 2.2 per cent on the combined Blue Cross-Blue Shield rate.

The proposal would not affect 352,000 members who hold Blue Cross-Blue Shield 65 contracts, designed to supplement medicare.

Blue Shield President John C. McCabe said the base rate for Michigan Blue Shield has remained unchanged for more than five years, except for a cut for some elderly members.

Blue Cross President William S. McNary said the Blue Cross proposal includes a 3.25 per cent adjustment for 1,811,000 members in group and group conversion categories, and a 1.62 per cent increase for 35,000 nongroup members.

Civilian Use Ban On Copper Stands

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Commerce Dept., said Tuesday its order to copper refiners to reserve their entire output for defense use will remain in effect at least for the present.

The department last Friday ordered refiners still operating to accept all defense orders and to hold up deliveries for civilian use in view of the copper strike and a longshoremen's boycott of copper imports.

The boycott was rescinded several hours after it began but commerce officials said they were receiving conflicting reports about copper shipments.

One official said the department had reports of ships still going unloaded and in another case of vessels being unloaded but no movement of copper from the docks.

"Until we have some assurance, we must keep them set aside," one source said.

The department emphasized its order is designed only to insure an adequate supply of copper for defense use and in no way represents any interference in a labor matter.

Copper refiners still operating have 28 per cent of the nation's producing capacity. Officials said last Friday's order would insure enough copper for defense use in case of a boycott.

Gilbert Cuts Mikita's Lead

NEW YORK (AP) — Rod Gilbert of the New York Rangers has closed to within two points of leader Stan Mikita in the National Hockey League's individual scoring race, the latest statistics disclosed Monday.

Gilbert collected four goals — all in the Rangers' 6-1 victory over Montreal Saturday night — and three assists last week, lifting his season output to 69 points.

The Rangers' star is in third place. Mikita, Chicago Black Hawks' center, has 71 points followed by teammate Bobby Hull with 70.

Jean Ratelle, Gilbert's linemate, advanced to fourth place with 66 points and veteran Gordie Howe of Detroit is fifth with 63.

Gump Worsley and Rogatien Vachon of Montreal continue to lead the goalies with a combined, low goals-against average of 1.98. Don Awrey, Boston defenseman, has spent the most time in the penalty box, 118 minutes.

Eastern Routs Kentucky State

YPSILANTI (AP) — Eastern Michigan rebounded with overpowering success and routed Kentucky State 101-84 in non-conference college basketball Monday night.

The Hurons grabbed 70 rebounds in the game, exactly twice as many as Kentucky State players got.

Eastern led at halftime 57-39, mainly on the shooting of Harvey Marlette and Earle Higgins, each of whom scored 16 points for EMU in the first half.

The shooting of Marlette and Higgins, plus the rebounding ratio, kept the Hurons easily out in front the rest of the game. Marlette had a total of 28 points and Higgins 21 for Eastern Michigan. Glenn Miller led the Kentuckians with 25 points.

EMU is 16-7 for the season and Kentucky State is 10-15.

Conservation Department Approves

Mack Equal Taxes Bill Is Endorsed

By JEAN WORTH

Senator Joseph Mack (D-Ironwood) has the support of state conservation officials in his quest for equal tax treatment of lands purchased by the Conservation Department for recreational purposes both above and below Town Line 16.

This line is in the Bay City-Muskegon level.

Ralph A. MacMullan, state director of conservation, replied to an Escanaba Daily query about the Conservation Department's position on Mack's bill to force equal tax treatment of purchased Conservation Department lands throughout Michigan. The bill is co-sponsored by Senators Thomas F. Schweigert (R-Petoskey), John F. Toepp (R-Cadillac) and Robert L. Richardson (R-Saginaw).

Open Housing Back In House

LANSING (AP) — An open housing bill, nearly identical to the one which provoked an emotional legislative battle last year, was introduced in the House at the last minute Monday.

Sponsored by Rep. Melvin DeStigter, R-Hudsonville, chairman of the House Civil Rights Committee, the measure is a near-carbon copy of the bill which was defeated 47-55 by the House last Dec. 21.

It outlaws discrimination based on race, religion, color or national origin in most real estate transactions, and provides that bias practiced by a businessman can be punished by a fine of up to $1,000 for a first offense and up to $2,000 for a repeat violation.

An individual found by the State Civil Rights Commission to have violated the act could be made to pay up to $500 toward any economic damages suffered by the person making the bias complaint.

Monday was the Legislature's deadline for introduction of all bills except taxation and appropriations measures.

Gov. George Romney has strongly urged passage of the housing bill and has pledged his administration would work hard lobbying for it.

The bill does not consider any tax reform on the much greater holding of state lands north of Town Line 16 which the state acquired by tax reversion and on which it pays 20 cents an acre to local governments in lieu of property taxes. Such holdings are coming under new public scrutiny in the Upper Peninsula, especially by educators, as the property tax base declines and the needs for tax income increase.

Legislature's Plan

The Legislature and not the Conservation Department enacted the 1925 law which governs tax policy on lands purchased by the state for conservation purposes. The act states that south of Town Line 16 the Conservation Department shall pay the entire property tax assessment to local units of government on these lands. North of Town Line 16 the state shall pay only 20 cents an acre.

"The northern resident taxpayers make up the difference, of course," said Mack. "This is rank discrimination and a

Ford Increases '39 Model Tags

DETROIT (AP) — Ford Motor Co. announced today a 5.9 per cent price increase in its new model Econoline vans and Club wagons to be introduced March 15. Ford said the average boost is $139.

Lynn Townsend, Chrysler Corp. chairman, had been quoted earlier by The Wall Street Journal as indicating in an interview his company is considering a price increase in 1969 model automobiles.

Townsend put the blame on a tightening profit squeeze, caused by rising labor and material costs.

Ford did the same thing in announcing increases for its Econoline vans and wagons, but also said the new models are bigger, better, safer, more comfortable and more convenient than current models.

The new vans and wagons, the latter a miniature bus in effect, are being designated 1969 models by Ford. A Ford spokesman said there will be no changes in the fall.

double standard of taxation."

Whether Mack and Schweigert and their colleagues can get the Legislature to change the policy now remains to be seen. MacMullan wrote Senator Mack in January that including purchased state lands north of Town Line 16 under the provisions of the 1925 act would mean a payment by the state on such lands of $700,525 a year, instead of $134,544, as at present under the 20 cents an acre formula.

Money Problem

"Nonetheless," said MacMullan "adoption of the (Mack) bill's provisions would resolve an inequitable situation and should, therefore, receive careful consideration by the Legislature."

"Our basic (Conservation Department) position on this bill (S-898) is that it would certainly be fair and equitable to tax all purchased lands in the same manner — regardless of whether the lands are in Gogebic County or Wayne County. In supporting the general intent of this legislation, we are also cognizant that its implementation could present a difficult funding problem for the Legislature."

Mack estimated that the change proposed by his bill would cost the state an extra $1 million a year, not the $500,000 estimated by the state.

He said that the state had played hanky-panky with the issue, including the Mason Game Farm in the area for highway tax payments although it is north of Town Line 16. He estimated that Ontonagon County had lost $5 million in taxes since the enactment in 1925 because of the large acreage of the Porcupine Mountains State Park in the county.

"The law is unconstitutional," said Mack. "We're going to get our bill passed or we'll sue."

Enemy Armor Found 50 Miles From Saigon

American was wounded and South Vietnamese casualties were again described as light.

Beaten In 1967

Loc Ninh was the kickoff point for a Communist offensive late last October. For a week the enemy tried to overrun the district headquarters compound, a Special Forces camp and a U.S. 1st Infantry Division patrol and artillery base. But they were beaten back after more than 1,000 were killed.

Undeterred, the Reds attacked government district towns and U.S. reinforcements along the Cambodian border and struck at the Bu Dop Special Forces camp.

Communist gunners again shelled Saigon's Tan Son Nhut airbase early today and other sections of the capital and its suburbs. No casualties and only light damage were reported at the sprawling military and civilian air base, but South Vietnamese military spokesmen said more than 100 homes outside the base were set afire and there were some civilian casualties.

Khe Sanh Shelled

In the northwest corner of the country, where the Communists used tanks for the first time in the war to overrun the Lang Vei special forces camp three weeks ago, Communist shelling of the U.S. Marine combat base at Khe Sanh continued without letup.

The count Monday was 200 rounds of artillery, rockets and mortars, with light damage but no report of casualties.

Other Marine posts below the eastern sector of the demilitarized zone took more than 500 rounds from Communist gunners Monday, but Marine headquarters at Da Nang said casualties and damage were light.

Printer Slain; Killer Hunted

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The Los Angeles Herald-Examiner is offering $10,000 reward and the striking newspaper unions are offering $5,000 for evidence leading to the conviction of the killer of a nonunion printer.

In a front page article, the Herald-Examiner offered the money to "the first individual or group of individuals furnishing evidence which directly results in conviction of the person or persons responsible for the murder . . . of Maurice Maynard."

The Herald-Examiner strike-lockout council's offer read substantially the same.

Maynard died Thursday of a bullet wound he suffered in a downtown motel.

The shooting occurred Feb. 13 in the motel lobby as Maynard, 35, and Curtis Krieski, 30, returned from work at the newspaper.

The two printers were picking up mail when three shots were fired, police said. One bullet struck Maynard in the abdomen, a second hit Krieski in the thigh and the third went into a desk. Krieski was not seriously hurt.

Order Petoskey To End Pollution

LANSING (AP) — The State Water Resources Commission has ordered Petoskey to abate the pollution of Bear Creek and Little Traverse Bay through the discharge of waste oils from its diesel plant by April 1.

The villages of Camden and Waldron in Hillsdale county were told by the commission to clean up raw sewage discharges by June 1, 1970.

The commission said it will prepare a final order at its March meeting requiring Mount Clemens to halt pollution of the Clinton River. City officials said they felt they could meet a final pollution abatement date of June 1970.

Plan To Salvage Machinery Off Sunken Carrier

MACKINAW CITY (AP) — King Construction Co. of Holland is seeking permission to salvage engines and machinery from the ore carrier Cedarville which went down in the Straits of Mackinac May 7, 1965, after colliding with another vessel.

The Cedarville lost 12 crewmen when she sank in 100 feet of water after the fog-shrouded collision with the Norwegian ship Topdalsfjord.

The Topdalsfjord made it to port with a damaged bow. The Cedarville skipper, Capt. Martin Joppich, was convicted of faulty seamanship by a U.S. Coast Guard board of inquiry and his license was suspended for one year.

Allis-Chalmers Strike Settled

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (AP) — The United Auto Workers union ordered 11,600 workers to report to their jobs at Allis-Chalmers Manufacturing Co. plants in four states today. Negotiators agreed on a new contract Monday, after a two-day strike.

In a joint announcement, UAW International Vice President Duane Greathouse and chief company negotiator David W. H. Denton said terms of the central agreement, a three-year pact expiring Nov. 1, 1970, "follow the pattern set in UAW settlements with other major farm equipment makers."

"We've resolved some very difficult negotiating issues with a minimal loss of production," Denton added.

Union members in Wisconsin, Illinois, Indiana and Iowa are scheduled to vote on the agreement this weekend.

Georgia-Pacific Merger Might Affect Cliffs

Speculation has arisen over the possibility of merger between Georgia-Pacific Corp., and the Cleveland Cliffs Iron Co., although CCI officials aren't conceding that it will happen.

Business Week Magazine quotes a Georgia-Pacific vice president as saying in regard to the merger possibility "If you want to editorialize you would be safe in going in that direction. Of course we'll take each step one at a time."

A CCI financial executive is quoted as saying "It isn't a sure thing."

The merger talk stems from reports that industrialist Cyrus Eaton of Cleveland is ready to relinquish control of his important iron and steel interests, with Georgia-Pacific, a company known mostly for wood products, ready to step in.

Four companies controlled by Eaton are involved, although only two actually are for sale: Detroit Steel Corp. and Premium Iron Ores, Ltd.

Georgia-Pacific already has reached a tentative agreement to merge with Detroit Steel and is carrying on exploratory discussions with Premium.

Detroit Steel owns about 23 per cent of the stock of Cleveland Cliffs.

"Wall Streeters trying to put the pieces together feel that on the surface it looks as though Georgia-Pacific will pick up the whole package," Business Week reported.

If for no other reason, say industrial analysts, Georgia-Pacific would be interested in Cleveland Cliffs for the 350,000 acres of prime hardwood timber which it owns in Michigan's Upper Peninsula.

Cliffs' U.P. Lands

"Contacted in Cleveland today a CCI official told Panax Newspapers that any company interested in acquiring Cliffs lands would have to negotiate directly with Cliffs. He said that the author of the Business Week reports was jumping to conclusions."

Eaton, now 84, has "a strong voice" in Cleveland Cliffs, Business Week said. He is a large stockholder in the company, which is a holder of mineral and timberlands in Michigan, and an operator of iron mines, most recently in partnership with steel and automotive companies in the Republic, Humboldt and Empire properties in the U.P.

Eaton's relinquishing of large holdings could cause a considerable shuffle in iron and wood industry properties. CCI has announced that it's pulp and paper mill in the U.P. have been offered as a nucleus of wood resource for a proposed $100 million pulp and paper mill of Oxford Paper Co. (now a division of Ethyl Corp.) at Munising.

Such a commitment might come under review if Georgia-Pacific were to become owner of CCI or strongly influential in its management through its ownership of Detroit Steel and its bloc of CCI stock.

There has been reported active trading in CCI stock in the Marquette area recently.

Lindsay Favors Drafting Rocky

NEW YORK (AP) — Mayor John V. Lindsay said Monday night that he thought the idea of a presidential draft was fine where Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller was concerned, but the mayor said of himself: "I'm not draftable."

The subject of republican presidential politics came during the taping of Johnny Carson's "Tonight" show for showing later Monday night on NBC-TV.

Lindsay repeated his approval of Rockefeller's statement of willingness to accept a GOP draft.

"I'd be for it," he said. "I'd support it."

"Suppose they draft you?" Carson asked.

"I'd shut the door," replied Lindsay.

The mayor declined to talk about his differences with Rockefeller in connection with New York City's recent nine-day garbage strike.

"The governor and I agreed not to air our dirty linen in public," Lindsay said.
